

Valdora Extra

This is an expansion set for Valdora that includes several extra components for the game. To start with, there's a last player marker so that players know who will get the last turn at the end of the game.

More significantly, the box includes two sets of Action cards. One set gives bonus points at the end of the game. The other provides special powers that players can use during the game. There's a cost for doing this, so players will need to decide whether the advantage is worth it.

There are also rules for playing the game with two players, using six 'Competition' tiles included in Valdora Extra.
