

With Sword and Shield

This card game reproduces a medieval joust. Each player is a knight with their own abilities (and appropriate motto in Latin). Players can be two teams of knights in a general melee or fight one on one. The cards allow different attacks and manoeuvres or may involve external events, such as the crowd cheering on one or other knight. Players' knights grow in ability and may acquire special weapons to aid them

With Sword and Shield contains 110 cards – two full decks – and the rules to the game. Errata, Q&A and additional material are available on the game's website: www.withswordandshield.com.
